Trailers are a great solution when you need to transport bigger and heavy items, and also when you go on holiday and lack space in your car.

When choosing the correct tyres for your trailer, pay attention not only to rim size but also to load and speed index. Inappropriate load and speed index may negatively affect tyre wear and safety.

Trailers are usually not in daily use and could be stored for a longer time either outdoors or in a garage. Please check for inflation pressure and any signs of ageing before using your trailer, especially if not in use for some time.

Mitas light trailer tires will win your trust with their high quality and long service life.
